DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12, drawn to a honeycomb structure and a purification system using the same, classified in class 55, subclass 523.
 - II. Claims 13-20, drawn to a method of manufacturing a honeycomb structure by removing portions of the partition walls, classified in class 264, subclass 630.
 - III. Claims 21 and 22, drawn to a method of manufacturing a honeycomb structure using an extrusion die imparting the claimed shape, classified in class 264, subclass 630.
 - IV. Claim 23, drawn to a die, classified in class 425, subclass 461.

2. Inventions Group I and Group II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process, such as the process of Group III.

3. Inventions Group I and Group III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process, such as the process of Group II.

4. Inventions Group II and Group III are directed to related process of manufacturing a honeycomb structure. The related inventions are distinct if the inventions as claimed do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants; and the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions do not overlap in scope, are mutually exclusive and are not capable of use together since one process forms the honeycomb structure and then removes part of the partition walls in a machining process while the other process imparts the desired shape using a special extrusion die.

5. Inventions Group I and Group IV are related as apparatus and product made. The inventions in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the apparatus as claimed is not an obvious apparatus for making the product and the apparatus can be used for making a materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different apparatus (MPEP § 806.05(g)). In this case the honeycomb can be made using a conventional die and reshaped using a material removal device.

6. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
